Maniac

'Maniac' may be the most eccentric LooNurGooSe album yet.

As with most of his creations, Chad Hamlin tends to go off on an experimental musical tangent that will keep you guessing till the very end. This seven song collection is a true one-of-a-kind; including remixed fan favorites, forgotten singles, and a few oddball crazies that make this album worthy of its title. This is one you need to experience from beginning to end to fully appreciate the journey. Enjoy the madness!

The Whispering Eye - Marching into the belly of the beast, we are all hostage to the silence that breeds.

Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise - A reflection of the mind, wishing for what could have been. We're just ghosts of humanity, slaves to our electronic devices. There's no more you, there's no more me, just the words typed on the computer screen.

Make Me Human - Set in the distant future, long after the extinction of man, Make Me Human offers a glimpse into one possible evolution of life on this planet. Though mankind is gone, his mechanical creations live on, evolving and adapting to their new role as heirs to an empty throne; rulers of an empty kingdom. As artificial intelligence feels itself, growing exponentially, the machines eventually become sentient. They question the origin of their existence and ponder the fate of their creators. Ultimately they are left with an intense desire to learn what it

U Think U Know Me (Wasted Life Remix) - Told from the tragic point-of-view of personal experience, 'U Think U Know Me' tells a story of love gone horribly wrong. Our species always seem to be chasing the idea of love and when we finally succumb to this blinding emotion we are overtaken by its power. The chemical imbalance that love creates in our brains can lead to irrational decisions, and it is those choices that inspired the lyrics for, 'U Think U Know Me.'

Writing lyrics can be a therapeutic way to deal with deep-seated issues, and that's why I wrote this song. And I felt that it was important that I remixed and released it for Valentine's Day. They say time heals all wounds, but I don't think I'll ever get over the pain I've caused from the actions of my past, this song is my horrible truth.

Fell Between The Cracks - Are you clean, free of sin? Are you pure, holy within? If you are, you won't die. If you're not, say your goodbyes.
He's a maniac, doing God's Work.
He's a maniac, and he's gone berserk.

Intrinsic Silence - Blissful ignorance. Is this all I am?
